

COVID-19 Weekly Update

Friday, May 29, 2020

Looking Ahead

We have nothing new to announce this week but our COVID-19 Response Team meets routinely to assess the current situation and carefully design our continued response as we move toward the other side of this crisis. We anticipate changes soon as Governor Reynolds continues to relax restrictions in Iowa.

We remain committed to monitoring the guidance provided by federal, state, and local officials. In addition, we are engaged with industry specific partners both nationally and within Iowa. Again, we will provide you with information and announcements regarding our response in this format each week as available.